

NO POP GUN BILLS
IS THE PROSPECTREPUBLICANS WANT VACAN-CIES TO BE FILLED.

They Refuse to Act on the Separate Measures Until the Finance Committee Is Given the Full Strength—Free Alcohol Clause Repealed in the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The republican members of the finance committee today refused to take action on the "pop gun" tariff bills until the vacancy in the committee is filled. Mr. Dolph gave notice of an amendment he should offer to the free sugar bill to restore the McKinley duties on wool.

Mr. Kyle (pop. N. D.) called up his resolution to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in the senate wing of the capitol during the recess. The resolution went to the committee on rules.

At 10:10 the Vice-President laid before the senate the unfinished business—the house bill to place sugar, raw and refined, on the free list. The pending motion was that of Mr. Harris to refer to the committee on finance. Mr. Aldrich gave notice of an amendment he would offer to the bill to repeal the tariff bill now in the hands of the President.

Mr. Manderson gave notice of an amendment to continue in force until 1905 the bounty provision of the McKinley law.

Without a word of debate the vote was taken on the motion to refer the bill to the committee on finance. The motion was carried—33 to 18. In quick succession the other three bills were sent to the committee on finance. On the motion to refer the free coal bill the vote was 35 to 17, on the free iron ore bill 37 to 17. The free barbed wire bill was referred without division. The negative vote in both cases being the same as on the free coal bill. Messrs. Dolph, Jones (Nev.), Mitchell (Ore.) and Smith were added to the affirmative. Mr. Camden refraining from voting. On the free iron ore reference Messrs. Carey, Camden and Walsh were added to the affirmative. Mr. Dolph did not vote.

TO CUT OUT FREE ALCOHOL.

House Passes the Repealer Before Adjournment Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—There was a mere handful of members present yesterday when the speaker called the house to order. The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up for further consideration. Mr. Sayers' motion to insist on disagreement on the Southern Pacific claim amendment was adopted.

Unanimous consent was asked that the senate substitute bill for the exclusion and deportation of alien anarchists which had just been received from the senate should be taken up for consideration. Objection was made by Messrs. Tracey and Warner of New York and the bill was withdrawn and referred to the committee on the judiciary.

The conference report on the general deficiency bill was reported to the house by Mr. Sayers announcing an agreement on the Southern Pacific amendment, the senate conferees having receded. The bill to repeal the free alcohol clause in the tariff bill was passed.

At 4:45 p. m. the house adjourned until next Monday.

Bimetallism League.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The necessity of immediate and thorough organization to push bimetallism to the front was discussed at a special conference of the American Bimetallism league which convened here yesterday. Thirty or forty members of the league from various states were present. Gen. A. J. Warner, president of the league, acted as chairman and among those present were Senator Stewart of Nevada, Congressman Pence and Bell of Colorado, Judge Shelton of Connecticut and C. S. Thomas of Colorado. The speeches were based on the assertion that the repeal of the Sherman act does not repeal the clauses in the Bland-Allison act revising the coinage act of 1887. The following committee was appointed to examine the coinage laws and report to the league: C. S. Thomas, Colorado; Alex. Fulton, Delaware; J. A. Gallagher, Ohio; John Shelton, Connecticut; and Hon. Isaac Sharp, Kansas.

New Refugee Order.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The administration has formally defined its position on the refugee question. The right of asylum is the subject of a regulation circular which Secretary Herbert signed the last minute before leaving the department yesterday. In it are instructions to officers of warships directing them on no account to give an asylum unless in extreme or exceptional cases.

Congratulations for Hawaii.

Many Silver Dollars Coined.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Reports to the director of the mint show that since July 1 the number of silver dollars coined amounted to $33,000.

THE DENVER RACES.

Wheelmen Break Records in the Colorado City.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 17.—Ten thousand people saw the best day's racing of years at the national bicycle meet in this city yesterday. The atmosphere did not affect the men in the least, and four world's records fell. Fred J. Titus won the mile race, and Brown of Cleveland was given the race. Sanger was third. Titus' time, 2:10 3-5, lowers the scratch race competitive record of 2:12 by Zimmerman and also the handicap race record of 2:11 2-5 by Sanger.

The five-mile competitive record was 12:28 3-5, made by Titus at Lafayette last month. Yesterday in the five mile national championship the same rider did it in 12:19, defeating Charlie Murphy of Brooklyn by less than a half length, Ziegler, the Californian, a close third.

The mile novice race was won by Turnbull of Denver in 2:23 3-5—a cut of six seconds off the record—Jacques of Chicago running second.

The fourth record broken was the half-mile riding backward, little Lee Richardson lowering his own record from 2:37 2-5 to 2:35.

FOR A NEW REPUBLIC.

Central American Union Plan Is Carefully Outlined.

GAUTEMALA, Aug. 17.—The preliminary arrangements for Central American Union, which, it is hoped, will be approved at the conference Sept. 16, provide that Reyna Barrios, president of Guatemala, shall be the first president, to be succeeded in turn by Policarpo Bonilla of Honduras, Zelaya of Nicaragua, and Gutierrez of Salvador. The new arrangement is set to begin next May. Meanwhile the autonomy of each country is to be respected, but a provisional president is to be elected, who will arbitrate all questions between the countries confederated and will direct the foreign policy of the confederation. There will be no change in customs tariffs not already provided for. The plan does not meet with popular approbation in Nicaragua and Salvador, and it is likely there will be a revolution against it.

Lafitt Allen Kills His Brother.

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Albert and Lafitt Allen, brothers, who for years have operated a sawmill and tile factory, yesterday, while filling a kiln with tile, got into a quarrel over some trivial affair. Albert threw a brick at Lafitt and missed him. Then he attempted to climb up to Lafitt, when the latter struck him over the head, knocking him off the pile into a pile of loose brick. He was picked up unconscious, and, after a few hours, died. Lafitt gave himself up to the authorities.

Populist and Labor Parties Fuse.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Under the spreading shade of the trees at Nelson's grove and in the presence of perhaps 2,000 people, delegates and spectators, the labor and populist parties of Ohio were pronounced one yesterday. To-day they will hold a joint state convention and place in the field a ticket to be voted for next November. The platform of principles enunciated by the McBride convention was accepted as a whole by the populists and the amalgamation completed.

He was convicted of abducting fourteen-year-old Eliza Cherrington fifteen years ago for immoral purposes. The girl was never found afterward and it was suspected that he murdered her.

CLEVELAND IS SICK AND SEES NO ONEPRESIDENT REACHES GRAY
GABLES THIS MORNING.

Orders Given Out that No Visitors Are to be Admitted—Dr. O'Reilly Says a Few Days of Sea Air Will Leave the Patient in Much Improved Condition

BUZZARDS BAY, Aug. 17.—President Cleveland arrived here this morning. Orders have been given out that he will see nobody. In explanation of his sudden departure the following statement was furnished by Private Secretary Thurber:

"The President left for a day's absence under the advice of his physicians, in the hope of shaking off an attack of malaria from which he has been suffering for several days. Yesterday the attack culminated in a fever, but which was under control yesterday."

"Dr. O'Reilly, his physician, expresses no doubt that a few days of salt air and rest will recuperate the President sufficiently to enable him to renew his official duties and he will return to Washington by the middle of next week. He has gone to Gray Gables and is accompanied by Dr. O'Reilly. Capt. Robley D. Evans also accompanied the President, but it is probable that he will stop at New York, where he will take command of his ship, the New York, in a day or so."

Senator Berry, Representatives Outwaite and Turner of Georgia and several other congressmen called at the white house soon after 9 o'clock, and were surprised to find that the President had departed.

The President took with him the tariff bill and also the river and harbor appropriation bill, and thus can act on each bill while away, in case he sees fit to do so.

The period of ten days within which the President has to act on the river and harbor bill expires Saturday night, but he has until Monday, Aug. 27, in which to act on the tariff bill. The President, it is believed, will return on the 24th or 25th inst., and, probably on the 14th.

The President occupied a special car on the 7:30 o'clock train, which is due in New York at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

THE KING OF SIAM IS DEAD.

British Ship Is Dispatched to Bangkok to Await the Succession.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 17.—Dispatches received by the steamer Tacoma announce the death of the king of Siam.

KING OF SIAM.

H. M. S. Rattler has been dispatched to Siamese waters to anticipate possible trouble over the succession.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The report of the death of the king of Siam is almost certainly untrue and probably arose from his serious illness. It seems upon the most cursory consideration that news of such an event, occurring over a month ago, would certainly have reached this country more expeditiously than by steamers across the Pacific.

AN IMPORTANT SEMICOLON.

Typographical Error in the Tariff Bill May Admit All Diamonds Free.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The copy of the tariff bill in possession of the chairman of the house enrolling committee, by which the bill sent to the President was compared and verified and which is regarded as unquestionably the same as the President's copy, contains the following paragraph in the free list:

Free list, 467—Diamonds; miners', glaziers', and engravers' diamonds not set, and diamond dust not to be used in the manufacture of watches and clocks.

The semicolon after the word diamonds in the beginning of the paragraph is considered of importance. Senator Jones of Arkansas insists that the semicolon will not be construed so as to admit all diamonds free of duty.

JAPAN'S MARCH INTO COREA.

People Elope for Conquest—Ambitious Schemes Preached.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai says that Japan is pouring fresh troops into Corea and that upward of 50,000 Japanese soldiers are now in Korean territory. The Chinese fleet, according to the same dispatch, is remaining passive.

In Japan the war fever is intense and universal, the press and popular orators preaching to the excited people of vastly ambitious schemes, including the conquest of China, or at least the conquest of the Chinese province of Manchuria.

The Japanese populace and press are under complete official control. Perfect order prevails among the town population. The Japanese government enforces complete secrecy in respect to all military movements and a rigid censorship is observed.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Aug. 17.—A notice has been issued to the effect that revision of the treaties between Japan and the foreign powers will be taken in hand forthwith. TO PREVENT STRIKES.

Labor Leaders Urge Government Control of Railroads.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The labor commission had a larger audience yesterday than that which met it Wednesday. The courtroom was filled with men who listened attentively to the testimony. Among those present were G. W. Moon, who desires to present to the commission a plan for preventing labor troubles; Attorney Chester M. Dawes, Ex-Representative Burns, Fannie Kavanaugh and a number of American Railway Union people. It is a question whether the commission will be able to get much information from the railway managers. The commission has the power to summon witnesses, but cannot compel them to answer questions. There is no doubt that George M. Pullman, Vice-President Wickes, General Managers Egan, St. John and other corporation officials will be called. Whether they will testify or not is quite another matter.

The condition of life of the employees at Pullman will be gone into at length by the commission. The statement by all witnesses heard thus far that the wages paid by Pullman were not sufficient to keep the employees from starvation and that this was the prime cause of the boycott makes it necessary for the commission to investigate this phase of the case.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 17.—The Cleveland democracy, headed by George Clark, jumped into the saddle in Texas at 1 o'clock this morning and rode over the free silver 16 to 1 ratioites by a vote of 451 to 115.

The platform reiterates the National democratic platform adopted in 1892, indorses the state administration of Gov. Hogg and reaffirms the "harmony agreement" between democratic factions entered into March 19, 1894, at Dallas. President Cleveland's administration is indorsed as wise, patriotic, and statesmanlike, and the President's action in calling out federal troops to suppress lawlessness during the recent railroad strike was commended. The financial plank is as follows:

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country and to coinage of both metals without discriminating against either metal on charge for mintage; but the dollar unit of coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, adjusted through international agreement or by such safeguards of legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in payments of debts, and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin."

The following ticket was nominated: Governor, David B. Culbertson; lieutenant governor, George T. Jester; attorney-general, W. M. Crane.

THIS EVENING.

Attempt to Remove a Patient From the South Side Drew an Infuriated Crowd Who Threatened the Doctor's Lives—Case Discovered to Be Simply Measles.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 17.—Another battle between some of the health officers and the people of the south side occurred late yesterday afternoon over a suspected case of smallpox. Health officers went to a house to remove a child said to be afflicted with smallpox. A crowd similar to that which gathered on Midland avenue last week assembled and prevented the officers from getting into the house. In the scuffle which followed one of the officers fired a shot. This brought round the house a howling mob of women armed with clubs. They were furious and would have attacked the handful of officers had not the doctors discovered the suspected case was measles and not smallpox, and advised the officers to retreat.

SOUTH OMAHA STRIKE OFF.

American Federation of Labor Gives Up the Struggle.

Two companies of the state militia arrived from Kearney and Nebraska City and will be held a short time. All the men who will be received will go to work in the morning except the beef butchers. They maintain that they can win their fight alone.

Over 2,000 men have been formally discharged from the Union Pacific as a result of the strike and others are being replaced daily. Two hundred and fifty engineers and firemen are included in the list. Some trouble is anticipated by the management when it comes to displacing the old employees in the company's houses along the line with new men who have families.

Whisky Trust Borrows Money.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 17.—The whisky trust has negotiated a big loan. This much is certain. The amount of the loan is not so certain. Distillers who were seen confirmed the report, but did not care to enter into a discussion of the situation. SOCIAL AT FOOTVILLE A SUCCESS
Many People at Henry Egerton's—Mrs. Tollefson Gets a Certificate.

FOOTVILLE, Aug. 17.—The social held at Henry Egerton's on last Friday evening was very largely attended, the merry-go-round being an attractive feature. Croquet and other quiet games were also indulged in, being followed by a bountiful repast which all enjoyed. About twenty took in the excursion to Devil's Lake Tuesday last; and all report a good time. Miss Chessie Smiley, of Orfordville, spent part of Friday and Saturday with her friend Clara Egerton, also the Misses Sager, of the same place. The small showers we have had lately have improved vegetables very much. Grace Nott, of Janesville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Charles Williams. At a city examination held in Milwaukee recently there were one hundred and twenty-two applications for certificates and only eight were successful. Mrs. Emma F. Tollefson was among those who received certificates. William J. Owen is repairing his house.

PORTER TOBACCO VERY LIGHT.

Much of the Leaf Has Been Topped But the Yield is Poor.

PORTER, August 17.—A good deal of the tobacco has been topped, but owing to the extremely dry weather the crop will be light. On the picnic grounds at Gibbs Lake, August 8, a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles were found; owner can have them by calling at first house east of picnic grounds. Miss Maggie Donahue of Janesville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Lay. Mrs. M. Briarty of Chicago, is visiting at her husband's parental home here. Miss Maggie Kennedy has returned home from Janesville where she has been attending school. The Messrs. McKeigue and Riley of Janesville, are visiting at M. Hays'. Mrs. D. Murphy, of Greene, Iowa, is visiting her old friends here. Peter Keeley has returned from the west where he has been working for the past two months. The Porter correspondent of the Janesville Recorder is not very correct in his statements, as last week it was announced that the Eagle Creamery was closed. Such is not the case as the factory is receiving more milk now than for some time past, and everything is running very satisfactorily to all patrons.

GRAIN SHIPPED FROM

Creamery Still Getting 10,000 Pounds of Milk a Day—Drying Up.

TIFFANY, August 17.—Our new grain buyer is shipping a large amount of grain from here. The late showers have greatly improved the corn crop. The creamery is getting 10,000 pounds of milk per day now, the supply having fallen off considerably on account of the dry weather. Some have commenced to plow but find it very dry. Jerome Shimes has started up his hay press again. Jones & Dean threshed 1,000 bushels of rye in twelve hours with their horse power outfit. The tank factory and blacksmith shop are busy places now days. You can get any sized tank you want of them and they also do all kinds of repairing. A large number took in the excursion to Devil's lake last week.

That Awful Tired Feeling.

That bearing-down feeling is often caused by the feet being encased in shoes too narrow to allow of the proper expansion of the foot. We take extra pains in fitting our customers. Not only are we particular regarding the fit but the purse is also taken into consideration. We call special notice to our line of ladies genuine hand turned, patent leather trimmed shoes. Sold the country over at four to five dollars. We are making tremendous efforts to double our last year's trade and have made the price $3.50. We invite comparison.

JANESVILLE SOLDIER BOYS.

Gossip From Company A. Headquarters at Camp Douglas—Governor's Day.

CAMP DOUGLAS, August 17.—Governor's day has come and gone and most of the boys are not sorry. They had a hard day of it. The boys were put through a very severe drill but they made very little complaint. The inspection was very satisfactory and it is said that the regiment stood as high as any in the state. Yesterday afternoon orders were issued to get ready for general review which was to take place north of camp the boys marching with knapsack. The day was very warm and the heavy load they were compelled to carry made it no easy shape. Co. A received a number of visitors from the Third and Fourth regiments and they helped care for the excellent dinner served up by Charles Fein.

Mrs. C. F. Glass and her sister, Miss Gertrude Salsman, arrived in camp this evening. A large number of visitors from the surrounding country were here to see dress parade last evening and there was a goodly number of the gentler sex among them.

Everything was quiet in camp during the evening as the boys were given permission to go to town and most of them did.

Judge John R. Bennett was the speaker when the old settlers of Green county held their annual reunion at Lincoln park at Monroe. There was a large attendance from all parts of the county. The mortuary record shows that forty-seven members of the association passed away during the past year. There were present at the meeting men who settled in Green county in 1833. Judge Bennett had delivered the address at nearly every meeting.

Great Grief and Head Shaving.

Among the ancients shaving the head was a very common mode of expressing great grief or sorrow. Sometimes it was done by the priest or some other religious functionary formally cutting off the hair, sometimes by violently plucking it out by the roots. In extreme cases among men the beard as well as the hair was either cut off or plucked out. The idea seems to have been that mourners should divest themselves of that which under ordinary circumstances was considered most beautiful, ornamental and becoming. Lucian (and he is not the only one of the ancient writers by any means who gives points on this queer mourning custom) says that the Egyptians expressed their intense sorrow by cutting off the hair upon the death of their god Apis and that the Syrians acted in the same manner at the death of Adonis. Olympiodorus remarks, concerning Job i. 20, that the ancients, among whom long hair was regarded as an ornament, cut it off in times of mourning, but that those who commonly wore it short suffered it upon such occasions to grow long.

Ida Lewis' Salary.

The Boston Transcript says that the yearly salary of Ida Lewis, the famous keeper of the Lime Rock lighthouse, at the south end of Newport harbor, is $750 and two tons of coal. She is past 50 now, her hair slightly streaked with gray and her face somewhat rugged and weather beaten, but she is still alert and strong. She began her wonderful record of life saving with the rescue of four small boys, whose boat capsized in the harbor before

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

Living in the Wild and Woolly.

He was from one of the wildest sections in the southwest and the reporter was having a little talk with him at the hotel in the city.

"Living is pretty high in your section, isn't it?" inquired the reporter.

"Yes, it comes purty high."

"It's good, though, isn't it?"

"Oh, yes; it's bully while it lasts," and the man's eyes snapped under his sombrero.

"While it lasts?" repeated the reporter, inquiringly.

The man nodded.

"How do you mean?" asked the reporter direct.

"Well," replied the man, slowly, "it don't always last. Every now and then a postol pops and that ends the business as far as that feller is concerned, and it's jest as likely to be one as t'other."—Detroit Free Press.

SOME TEA SECRETS.

Chinese Carefully Guard the Mode of Selection, Drying and Preparing.

Owing to the jealousy of the Chinese government preventing foreigners from visiting the districts where tea is grown, and the information derived from the Chinese merchants at the shipping ports, scanty as it was, not being depended on with any certainty, much mystery and confusion for a long time existed regarding the species yielding the varieties known to the trade as green and black teas, by which names they are best known to the public, many authorities contending that the former were produced exclusively from the green tea plant, and the latter solely from the black tea variety, while again it was held by others that both commercial varieties were produced from a single species, the difference in color, flavor and effect being due entirely to a disparity in the soil, climate, age and process employed in curing the leaves for market; also that green teas were grown from plants cultivated on the plains or low lands, in soil enriched by manure, and black teas from plants grown on hillsides or mountain slopes.

Later and more careful investigations, however, disprove all these opinions, it being now admitted, even by the Chinese themselves, that the green and black teas of commerce may be and are prepared at will from either and both species of the tea plant, different methods being pursued in the processes of curing from the first stage, green teas being only distinguished from black by the fact that the latter are not fermented in the process of curing, or tanned as high or as often by excessive heat as the latter in the firing process to which they are subjected before being twisted or curled.

It was also a commonly received opinion at one time that the distinctive color of teas was imparted to them by being fired in copper pans. For this belief there is not the slightest foundation in fact, as copper is never used in the process of firing teas, repeated experiments by unerring tests having conclusively proved that not in a single case has any trace of that metal been detected, the only difference lying in the methods of preparation.

M'CULLOCH HEADED THE G. A. R.

Janesville Man at the Head of the Wisconsin Detachment in California.

John McCulloch, formerly with The Gazette, writes from Los Angeles that the G. A. R. of California camp for ten days every year on the seashore. This year they had tents for 1,500 and as many as 5,000 visitors a day called on the boys in blue. The last day of the encampment there was dress parade and review, every loyal state in the country being represented. Mr. McCulloch commanded the Wisconsin detachment of fifty men in the review and on parade.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder
Most Perfect Made.

NOT LIKE HIS MOTHER'S.

The Following Is a Warning to Some Young Husbands.

Beautiful scenery here, is it not?" asked the young man of a solitary traveler whom he found pacing along the seashore.

"Well no," replied the stranger, "I can't agree with you. I think the ocean is too small. It is no such ocean as my mother used to have."

"Your mother's ocean was superior, then?"

"Oh, yes, vastly superior. What tumbling breakers! What a magnificent sweep of view! What amplitude of distance! What fishing there was in my mother's ocean!"

"But the sky is magnificent here, is it not, sir?"

"Too low and too narrow across the top," replied the stranger.

"I hadn't noticed it," said the young man.

"Yes," said the stranger, "it is too low and there isn't air enough in it, either. Besides it doesn't sit plumb over the earth; it is wider from north to south than it is from west to east. I call it a pretty poor sky. It is no such sky as my mother used to have."

"Pardon me, but did your mother have a special sky and ocean of her own?"

Right here an old resident came up and drew the young man aside.

"Don't talk with him," said the old resident. "He is a hopeless lunatic. He is a man who always used to tell his wife about 'the biscuits my mother used to make,' 'my mother's pies,' 'my mother's puddings' and 'my mother's doughnuts.' The habit grew on him so much that he became a confirmed lunatic."

PUT THREE BULLETS IN A JAIL BREAKER

PLUCKY MAN HEADS OFF NINE TOUGHS.

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

OFFICERS from Rockford, Supervisor Snyder and a citizens' posse of Rockton, are in Beloit to-day and have arrested the Higgins brothers for illegal liquor selling; and also arrested Sullivan, the crook, who was shot three times last night at Rockton while trying to liberate La Pointe, who was in the Rockton jail. La Pointe had pounded a lad by the name of Boone. Jack Hess and Jimmy Hess, of Janesville, headed the gang of nine who were attempting La Pointe's rescue. There is considerable excitement over the affair, and the citizens are much elated over the arrest of the Higgins brothers. This will probably close up the saloon over the line. The police do not know where Sullivan has fled from. He has never been seen in Beloit or Janesville. The shooting was done by a brother of Boone, who came up with a revolver just as the crowd surrounded the jail.

"I KNEW as soon as they settled the tariff bill, that business would pick up," said Sutton Norris this morning as he cashed a six dollar order at the American Express office. "There's an order for six dollars' worth of weather strips that I should never have gotten in the world while this uncertainty hung over the country."

THE efforts of A. H. Sheldon & Co. have put forth in favor of the Majestic Stage Range are now being felt very forcibly. The people in the city and country are beginning to realize the worth of the Majestic and are backing up their ideas by purchasing. From one to half a dozen people from the country call every day to see the Majestic, the result of which invariably is a sale.

THE tariff was the cause of a democratic barber who had worked for another democratic barber losing his job this morning. The employee remarked that if it wasn't for the democrats he would be getting more pay. The remark incensed the employer and one word led to another and they all led to a point where the employee was "fired."

SEVERAL cases of the latest in hats were received by Rosenfeld on the bridge this morning. Rosey, as he is familiarly known, always gets the latest first. Among these hats are the celebrated Henry Roelofs hats, made in Philadelphia, the finest hat in America; also the Knox, Dunlap, Youman, and Miller styles. The hats are much better shapes this season than ever before, and much cheaper. Rosenfeld bought these hats so that he can retail the best and latest styled ones at $2.50, whereas last season an inferior hat cost $3.50. They are being unpacked and placed in the window, and from present indications they will present a very handsome appearance. They are the finest fall hats in the market, and every gentleman can have a new style hat for Sunday by going to Rosey's.

C. W. HODSON TAKEN TO HIS LAST HOME

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD AT 2 O'CLOCK TODAY.

None But the Family and Intimate Friends Present—Resolutions Adopted by the Business Men's Association—Mrs. Edwin Fifield Dead—Charles H. Larkin.

While tears stood in the eyes of his hearers, Rev. W. H. Wotton, the rector of Trinity church, performed the burial service over a man that Janesville could ill afford to spare, Charles W. Hodson, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Solemn as was the ceremony, its sadness was heightened by the sense of modest, genuine worth that Mr. Hodson had left with all whom he knew. Few men made firmer friends than those whom Mr. Hodson had won during his long business life.

Added to the simple service of the Episcopal church this afternoon, was a song service rendered by a quartet. The pall bearers, who were selected from the personal and business friends of Mr. Hodson were W. B. Noyes, R. J. Richardson, R. M. Bostwick, Wm. Ruger, W. T. Vankirk and C. S. Jackman. The ceremony was of a private nature only the more intimate friends meeting with the sorrowing family. At conclusion many turned toward Oak Hill where all that was mortal of our honest, upright and manly man was laid to rest.

Action Taken By Business Men.

Resolutions on the death of Mr. Hodson were adopted by the Janesville Business Men's Association. They were drawn by Alex. Graham, George G. Sutherland and P. J. Mount and were as follows:

"That the members of the Business Men's association called together by the death of one of their members, Charles W. Hodson, desire to express their recognition of the high regard in which he has ever been held by them as a member, as a business man, as a citizen.

"That in the death of Charles W. Hodson our association has lost an active, honored member, the community a valuable, upright citizen, the city one of its best business men, the family a kind and affectionate husband and father.

"That we sympathize profoundly with the family of our deceased brother member, and tender it our heartfelt sympathies.

"That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this association, a copy sent to the family and to the city papers for publication."

Mrs. Edwin Fifield.

Death came to Mrs. Edwin Fifield at 8:45 this morning, and ended the pain that had been endured so bravely and so patiently. For two years Mrs. Fifield has not known health, but the courage with which she bore her sufferings was an inspiration to those about her. She contracted a cold in the winter of 1891-2, and the fall of '92 she spent at the seashore in the hope of receiving benefit. The following winter was passed in New Mexico and Texas, but this last winter she was unable to endure a journey, and rapidly and steadily failed. Her father and mother were with her for the last year, and she had all the loving attentions that thoughtful parents and a devoted husband could bestow.

Upon the husband, whose every thought has been for the sick one's comfort, the blow dealt by death is a stunning one. To him all hands will be extended. Sympathy will go, too, to the son, Leon L. Cowles, who is left motherless at the age when a mother's influence would be felt most.

Mrs. Fifield was 31 years of age and was born in Philadelphia. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Major Powe and has one sister, Mrs. V. P. Staub, of New Milford, Conn. Her first year and a half in this city was spent with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Fifield, 220 South Main street. After returning from the south a cozy home was established at 101 South Main street. Here she peacefully passed away and here the funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday. Rev. A. H. Barrington will officiate.

Charles H. Larkin.

Word that saddened many an older resident of Janesville, came from Milwaukee to Hon. Hiram Merrill last night. It announced the death of Charles H. Larkin, which occurred at Milwaukee last evening. Mr. Larkin was eighty-four years of age and was one of the earliest settlers in Milwaukee, locating there in 1836. He was vigorous in mind and body up to the latter part of his eighty-third year, when disease attacked him and he was obliged to take to his bed. Death had been expected several weeks ago, but Mr. Larkin displayed remarkable vitality and remained conscious until yesterday morning. Then he began to fail rapidly and death came quickly. Frequent visits to Janesville had made him well known here.

Charles Logerman.

After a patiently borne illness, Charles Logerman gave up the fight with death yesterday afternoon. Mr. Logerman had been a valued and faithful employe of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road for ten years, and had friends without number both among the railroad men and citizens of Janesville. He was forty-four years of age and leaves beside a sorrow stricken wife, two children, Pleurisy and pneumonia in combination was the cause of his death. The funeral eral will be held from the house Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the United Workmen will be present in a body.

DID HE KILL HIMSELF OR BATHE?

Clothing, Cigarettes and Poetry Found On the River Bank.

With a less desperate means of death at hand an unknown man seems to have jumped into the river back of Colling, Wray & Blair's mill this morning and allowed himself to gurgle out his life by means of muddy river water. As long as a box of cigarettes remained in the pocket of the coat that was left behind no such damp act would appear necessary. Whether or not the case was one of suicide remains a mystery. When L. E. Currier went to work at the mill this morning he saw a coat, vest and hat lying on the ground near the mill. He at once sent a boy down to tell Sheriff Bear who went up and got the clothing. In the pockets of the coat were found a pipe, a box of Cofin-nail cigarettes, two handkerchiefs, Thornton Reed's ticket to the fair grounds, a piece of original poetry that had to be disinfected with chloride of lime before reading.

When Mr. Reed, who lives four miles from town came to the city this morning he denied that he had smoked cigarettes or written such poetry. He said further that he had never received his fair ticket, although the number of it was all right. Whether or not the sheriff unknowingly appropriated the property of some gentleman who was taking a long-needed bath, physically from cigarette smoking and morally, on account of his perverted poetic propensities, or whether the whole thing was a joke or a suicide or something of the kind is unknown.

GOOD BASE BALL GAMES.

Detroit League Team, the All Universities and the Milwaukee Laureds.

The Athletics have made arrangements for three most excellent games of ball at Athletic park in the near future. Next Sunday they will go against the Milwaukee Laureds, a very strong amateur team. The Laureds are under the management of Gus. Alberts, an old-time base ball player and manager, and among the players are Nagle and Krock, both old players who have served time in the National league under the eagle eye of Adrian Constantine Anson.

Wednesday, August 23, the All Universities of Milwaukee will be with us. This is one of the strongest university teams now on the diamond. Tuesday, August 28, the event of the season will take place. The Detroit league of the Western Association will attempt to defeat the Athletics. This team has lately been reorganized, and are now playing excellent ball as they will be compelled to do, should they defeat the Athletics, who have several new players, and have strengthened all their weak points. During the next two weeks lovers of this great game will see the best ball of the season here.

The Coming Excursion.

Already hundreds have signified their intention of going on the excursion to the Delta of Wisconsin, August 24. Rockford, Beloit and Janesville will no doubt enjoy a great outing that day. The railroad company will take charge of all baskets and bundles, check them and put in baggage car both going and returning so that the passengers will have no trouble. There will be a big crown, but there will be ample room for all. No drunkenness or rowdiness will be allowed about the train or the steamer, therefore ladies and children without escorts can enjoy the trip. The best of order will be maintained. For further particulars see E. J. Samuels, ticket agent C. M. & St. P. R. R.

Grandest Excursion of All.

This evening, Captain Buchholz will give a moonlight excursion to Crystal Springs Park on the Steamers Columbia and Enterprise. Every preparation possible has been made to make this the banner moonlight excursion of the season. The Bower City band will furnish music, the park will be illuminated especially for the occasion, and a special effort will be made to have everybody enjoy themselves. The first boat will leave the dock at 7:30. Fare for the round trip 15 cents. Everybody is invited to join the captain and make this a gala event.

They Like the Garland.

Words of praise are being received by us from all over the country for the way we handled the Garland Steel Range during the past two weeks. Our success was beyond our most sanguine expectations, but then "fall" is an unknown word to us, and we are pretty well acquainted with "success." We will give a round trip ticket to the excursion to Devil's Lake next Wednesday, free, to every purchaser of a Garland Range until that time.

LOWELL HARDWARE CO.

Matrimony Cheap in Australia.

Those to whom the wedding fee is an obstacle to matrimony should emigrate to Melbourne, Australia, where clergymen vie with each other in their advertisements to tie the knot cheaply. Their charges range from $2.50 to seventy-five cents, and in some cases the wedding breakfast and ring are included.

H. D. M'KINNEY HURT AT THE RACE TRACK

HORSE FELL AND THREW THE DRIVER OVER HIS HEAD.

A Splintered Collar Bone and Numerous and Painful Bruises About the Face and Head Comprise the Injuries Which are Not Thought to Be Dangerous.

Henry D. McKinney, the well known horseman, lies at his home, suffering from painful injuries that are severe enough to keep him housed for some days at least. A splintered collar bone and numerous and uncomfortable bruises about the head and face comprise his hurts, and while there is nothing really dangerous about them, they are not boy's play by a long way.

Mr. McKinney was driving one of his horses at the track this morning, the animal being equipped with hobbles, an arrangement of straps that keeps a pacer from trotting or a trotter from pacing. While going at a good clip one of the hobbles broke, the horse caught his foot in it and fell. Mr. McKinney was thrown from the sulky seat and over the horse's head, striking the hard track on his head. He was at once taken home and Dr. Robinson attended him. Many exaggerated reports concerning his injuries were told this morning but the many friends of Mr. McKinney, and no one has more, will be glad to hear that he was not more dangerously hurt.

FOR RENT FREE.

It was an aristocratic looking mansion in the most aristocratic neighborhood of the aristocratic city of Washington, and inasmuch as it was offered rent free for one year to any one who would agree to occupy it for that time I did not hesitate long in making up my mind to take it. Upon inquiring the reason why the place was offered for rent on such easy terms the agent informed me that it had the name of being haunted, and that the owner had been so unfortunate as to procure in succession a number of tenants, all of whom were superstitious and all of whom straightway moved out.

I was pleased with the frankness of the agent until I afterward learned that the owner had come to the same conclusion a dozen years before, and that the only tenant he had secured since then, a young bachelor like myself, had been found dead on the drawing room floor the morning after the first night's occupancy. The police had been told to go there and look for him by the servant, who had fled from the house when the ghost first put in its appearance. The coroner's verdict was, "Died from heart failure." I am not superstitious, nor am I even nervous, and so it was but a few days before I moved into the haunted house, but in that time I had nearly lost Mose, my old colored servant and standby, who had been the one thing left me after the settling up of my father's estate. My father had bought him years before up at Fairfax Court-house, and he tried to buy his sister, Catha Lilly, who was equally black, but she was sold to a higher bidder from Alexandria. After the war she went to live in Washington with Mrs. Lee Nelson, whom she called one of her "chil'un." Mrs. Lee Nelson lived at 1705, directly across the street from my free mansion, and thus Mose learned all about the "haunts over to yondah house whar you se gwine to live at."

Poor Mose! After all he had heard of the ghosts that had been seen there I can scarcely blame him for his unwillingness to live with me in my free quarters, and I do not wonder that I found him hard to persuade and finally reassured, as I eventually did.

The day after the furniture had been put in Mose and I were hanging pictures, unpacking the library and at the same time investigating things, looking to see where this door went to and that noise came from. Most of all we were curious about the great red stain on the floor in front of the mantel in the front drawing room. It was during this time that Mose was telling me what "Lilly dun told" him.

"Mahsa, Lilly she say dat we uns gwine be skeered so bad dat our teef gwine shake outen our head. Lilly she say dat she reckuns she knows all 'bout dis yer house, cus she know'd de young gen'man whar commit de sooside yer, cu he war engaged to her young Mistus Charlitt, whar married her cousin Rich'd Moncre. Miss Charlitt's mammy she insists she doan' marry no northe'n man, but must marry qual'ity people, and dat's how de trouble hit all come about."

"Prince Cholly, dat's whar dey all ust to call him, cus he war so sprit'ly in his mannahs, he ust to lib yer long befo' de wah, and he ust to come down to Alexandry to co't Miss Charlitt all de time. And Lilly she say she can't hope but think dat he war qual'ity, even ef he war a northe'nah. Lilly she say he war a pow'ful pretty man, and dat Miss Charlitt cert'nly sto' a heap of sto' by him. De pres'dant whar de pres'dant befo' Mistah Lincoln war de pres'dant he dun sent Prince Cholly's pappy away to England to be a minstah, and he take Prince Cholly's mammy along with him. Prince Cholly, he tell his pappy he come in de spring. Lilly she say dat wintah he come pow'ful clost to libbin down to Alexandry, and Miss Charlitt she jest as smilin as a basket of chips on a frosty mornin'."

"When all de chairry trees and everythin was bloss'min, Prince Cholly he tells Miss Charlitt he got to go to England and join his pappy and mammy fo' de summah, and he ax Miss Charlitt ef she won't get married to him then, 'sted of wait'n nutha year. He want her to go 'long with him on a honeymoon and s'prize his folks. Miss Charlitt she might glad to do this, cus her mammy dun tryin all de time to get her to marry Mistah Moncre. Lilly she say her mammy jest put her feet down p'intidly and 'fused to let Miss Charlitt get married den, cus she ain' ole nuff, and findly Prince Cholly he have to go 'way by hisself, and Lilly she say she dun had de mizry in her side fo' a week, cus he look so moanful when he say goodby to Miss Charlitt in de gyrden. Lilly say dat she and all de house niggabs was peepin, and dey could see Prince Cholly and Miss Charlitt in de moonlight by de lilac hedge, and den bymby Prince Cholly he let go his holt of her and machef off down de street, Miss Charlitt she standin lookin aftah him tell he out of sight."

"Lilly she say she can't remembah ever seein Miss Charlitt smile 'gain aftah dat day. All de trouble came den, fo' de next mornin yer come Mistah Moncre, and he tryt yer 'way to make Miss Charlitt marry him, and Miss Charlitt's mammy she hope him all she know'd how. Miss Charlitt she wouldn't low him to co't her at all, doh, and she tell him ef he don't go way she'd s'prize him. Mistah Moncre he stay right thar, doh, all de time, and de Lawd only knows how dey do hit, but in August he and Miss Charlitt's mammy dun make her marry him. Miss Charlitt she declare all de time she jest hate him, and Lilly she say she know she did, too, cus she seed hit in Miss Charlitt's face, she look so contempt'lik. Den dey move 'way, down to Fredericksburg, and ain' hardly mo' dan gone when yer come Prince Cholly home again, and he find de lettah whar Miss Charlitt dun write to him de mornin she git married. Lilly say dat de obidence dun show dat aftah he read de lettah he drap hit on 'de flo' in front of de mantel in de front pa'la and go up stayahs and fling hisself on de bed, an he must been pretty near 'stracted, too, cus de sheets was tore'd all to pieces. Den he must gone into de sittin room up stayahs and shot hisself, cus dat's whar de blood commenced, and hit war splash'd all 'long de hall and down de stayahs and into de front pa'la whar de big red stain is. Lilly say she been tole dat aftah he shoot hisself he t'ink 'bout de lettah he drap on de flo', and he drag hisself all de way down dare and burn hit up, all 'ceptin a little piece 'thout no writin on hit, and nobody ain' ever know whar Miss Charlitt dun write to him. And Lilly she say dat Prince Cholly's ha'n't crawls down dem steps and ober to de pa'la flir place and burns dat lettah ev'ry night."

"Yes," I said, "I presume it does, but what of Miss Charlotte?" "Jest gwine to tell you dat. Lilly she say dat when Miss Charlitt she heah whar Prince Cholly dun gone and do she up and comes home to her mammy in Alexandry and doan' eat nuthin, but just lay on de bed and cry and cry jest so her heart would break. And den de fevah come, and she git 'stracted and doan' know anybody, not even her own mammy. She grow'd worse every day tell she ain' lookin no more like Miss Charlitt than anything. The doctor tell her mammy 'she ain' gwine to live long and say she bettah send fo' her husband, but her mammy say no, not fo' him. Miss Charlitt she sleep right peaceful dat night, and she smile right nachullike and look most jest like she did befo' Prince Cholly had to go way. Long t'wads de mornin Miss Charlitt she dun raise right up in de bade and reach up her arms jest so and cry out ral'lyful, 'Prince Cholly, but she ain' neber say no mo'. She drap back on her pillar, and de doctor say hit's all over, and he say hit too bad her husband ain' thar, but Miss Charlitt's mammy she see the happy sprishun on Miss Charlitt's face, and she say, 'No; hit ain bettah he ain' heah.' Lilly say she heerd dat Miss Charlitt's ha'n't is yer in this house too."

The afternoon faded into the darkness of the evening. After my dinner I had to remain with Mose while he finished washing the dishes, as he was afraid to be left alone for even a moment. His work over, we adjourned to the front parlor, and I permitted Mose to smoke a cigar with me. As no ghosts seemed to come forth, I thought they might object to the lights, and much to the disgust of Mose, I put them out in the hall and in the room where we sat. A soft radiance came in from the street, and we sat and smoked, and Mose, wishing to appear courageous, was saying that he guessed that half the houses that were supposed to be haunted were not, and I was thinking of the beautiful Miss Charlotte when suddenly a figure passed swiftly and noiselessly from the hall door to the fireplace and there vanished completely.

"Fo God, mahsa, jew see dat?" cried Mose, clinging around my neck, beseeching me in one howl to protect him and in another calling on the Lord to make him "a better nigger."

I have said that I am not superstitious nor even nervous, but I had just seen what Mose had, and after his unearthly howling in my ear I was nearly as much worked up as he was. We at once lighted the gas and started an investigation, but discovered nothing.

I tried all my persuasion, but Mose was determined to go. We, however settled that he should sleep at Lilly's and come to me early in the mornings. I told him there were no such things as ghosts, and that I should no doubt soon find out all about the apparition of the night before. That evening, after he had finished his work and gone to sleep across the way, I again planted myself in such a position that I could easily watch the door leading into the hall. I was in the dark smoking, and I had not been seated long, when a tall figure, seemingly that of a young man, passed hurriedly from the fireplace across the room and out into the hall.

I cried to it to stop. My voice echoed through the house and frightened me, it sounded so little like my own. I was about to start in search of the retreating figure when there entered from the door two others—those of a man and a woman. They passed slowly enough for me to see them plainly, shadowy as they were, and I ran from the room and out the front door to the sidewalk. No; I was not mistaken. There were the man and the woman—two negroes in flesh and blood—and down the hill at the corner of Second street was an electric light. I saw it all at once. Any one passing in front of the house would cast a deep shadow in my drawing room. I called out to the couple who had just passed: "Hello, there! Wait!" At my first invitation to wait they stopped, but as they located my voice and my figure there came a howl from the woman: "Fo' God, Eph'am! Fo' de Lawd sake, look yonder, honey!"

Approaching them, I asked if they would not please walk back past the house again, as I wished to see the phantoms float across my parlor. I was compelled to wait for other passersby, however, for the gentleman addressed as Eph'am and the lady under his protection had put two blocks between us before I knew it. Upon re-entering the house and waiting for more ghosts I was rewarded, for when any one passed while the room was dark a corresponding figure or figures would be seen passing either to or from the fireplace.

A few days later Lilly told Mose that "a ha'n't whar look for all de worl like Prince Cholly dun come out from dat house last Thuesday night, and hit dun chase Bradda Eph'am Joslyn and his wife clean from dare to de P street bridge, whar, bein as how hit war ha'n't, hit couldn't go no faddah."

BATHING COSTUMES.

Judic Chollet Says They Do Things Better In France.

A woman fashion writer has lately lifted up her voice against the institution of show bathing gowns, used half the day as promenade costumes along the beach—garments fitted over a French corset and never worn within reach of the spray of the ocean. It is very rarely that anything is said against this custom, which is odd, considering how exceedingly ill bred, even vulgar, it is.

For a woman to show so plainly her desire to mingle with the public in the stage attire of a burlesque actress is not to raise her in the esteem of well-mannered persons. If she goes into the water, short skirts or none are a necessity; if she merely lounges on the beach, they are not, and she has no excuse for appearing in any except the accepted costume of the age.

The clothing should be appropriate to the occupation, and it is as absurd to use a bathing suit for dry land wear as it would be to go into the water with a parasol and bonnet.

It is only in America that this state of things obtains, for abroad sea bathing is conducted as a business rather than a social function and affords little scope for airs and graces. In France the bathing man who takes a woman into the water is her companion only during their immersion, and as he is of the servant class there is no question of social amenities. He attends to his business so thoroughly that when the bather emerges she is dripping wet to the crown of her head and in no condition for conversation with her friends. The liberty of American sea bathing is much pleasanter, but it ought not to be abused and made the excuse for a display of bad manners and mistaken vanity.

A great number of Frenchwomen wear suits cut all in one piece, without a skirt, the trousers being made in so flaring a shape that the inside seam forms almost a straight line. This gives nearly as much fullness as a skirt and is much less clumsy. A sketch is shown of a bathing costume in two pieces. The blouse and skirt are one garment, reaching almost to the knee and belted in at the waist. The trousers are gathered in by an elastic band around the bottom of the leg, and the short sleeves are similarly secured. A plastron, embroidered with an anchor, fills in the open front of the bodice. This costume is more suitable for mere bathers than swimmers, as the latter require a union suit, with removable skirt.

Gold Sweating.

Gold in transit across the Atlantic "aweats" no matter how tightly it may be packed. It is usually sent in stout kegs and squeezed in as tight as possible, but there is a regular allowance for loss by attrition upon the voyage, and in the course of years this loss to the commercial world amounts to a large sum.

Sinking Shafts in Quick Sand.
Great success has been obtained in Belgium with the ammonia process for sinking shafts through quicksand. The principle is that of freezing the quicksand by an ammonia freezer similar to that used in making artificial ice.

Oh, What a Surprise!

What an agreeable one, too, is experienced by the hitherto misguided individual who has been ceaselessly but vainly dosing for years past in the futile hope of curing constipation, when drastic pills and potions are abandoned for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a faithful auxiliary of nature, which does its work without gripping or weakening, but always effectually. "Throw physic to the dogs!" and use this benign and thorough laxative, which achieves results which astonish as well as those who use it. Not only a regular habit of body, but complete digestion and assimilation are restored by its use. It regulates the liver and kidneys and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. In no case where it is possible to procure it should its use be delayed. Fortify with it against malaria.

The Mark Is Not on Their Faces.

In a New York photograph collector's album there are the pictures of 100 criminals who were tried and convicted in that city last year. A good proportion of them are men of fine appearance, with honest looking faces and a pleasant expression. The owner of the album often shows these pictures to his acquaintances, without telling who the men are, and he says that of all the people who have seen them not one has yet guessed that they are convicted criminals, or that they do not rank among the most respectable citizens.

How Is It Done?

The following mysterious advertisement appeared recently in a London paper: "Gentleman, 26, respectable appearance and religious inclinations, wishes to marry under phrenological principles, and invites correspondence from any lady having the same desire." How do you marry under phrenological principles? Do you both have your bumps felt, and then compare notes to see that there are no "incompatibilities of temper?"

Teaching Him the Error of His Ways.

His Mother—Johnny, always remember what I told you. When you see any little boy showing anger take him aside and make him feel that he is wrong. Did you do so yesterday with naughty Tommy Tubbs?

Johnny—Yes, indeed, I did. I punched him good, too.—Chicago Record.

The Latest Variety of Bore.

TO LOOK NICE.

ALL WOMEN DESIRE IT.

Some Points About How to Accomplish the Desired End.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It is the most natural wish in life with women—to feel well and look nice.

It is born with them.

It makes a world of difference to the wee little girl whether or no there is a bit of pretty lace or bright ribbon about her dress or on her hat.

Yes! All women like to look nice. All watch for the least signs of fading.

You have seen beautiful ladies, and been amazed to know that they have lived fifty or sixty years of life.

Have you ever stopped to ask why the few look so lovely while the many around you are so haggard?

Look into it, and you will soon find them blessed with a perfect and healthy organism.

Above all, you will find that no female complaints have seared their lives; no dreadful backache, no irregular periods, no bearing down, or any kind of uterus, ovarian, or womb trouble.

You are not like them now, but you may reach their high level if you will.

You suffer, but there is a remedy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the grandest remedy ever discovered for women. It restores the womb and all irregularities to their natural healthy condition, and makes possible a lovely old age. It cures every form of female complaint, from leucorrhoea to tumors in the womb.

Facts from Natural History.

Old Mr. Soakley (to his wife)—Just think, dear, a camel can work eight whole days without drinking!

Mrs. Soakley (with a withering look)—That's nothing! I know an animal who will drink for eight days without doing a bit of work.

Mr. Soakley signs resignedly, and turns to the sideboard.—Truth.

The Passing Show.

Mrs. Dorcas—Thanks to the agitation of female suffrage, living is growing more simple every year.

Cobwigger—I quite agree with you. It won't be long before a girl will be able to economize by using her bathing suit for a bicycle costume.—Judge.
